What is a cookie?

On our website we make use of cookies. A cookie is a small file which is sent, by your browser, together with this website pages, and stored on your computer's hard drive. This cookie info can be used for a next visit to our website, and can be sent back to our server.

Usage of permanent cookies

Using a permanent cookie, we are able to recognize you at a next visit to our website, and your personal preferences can be loaded. This can give you a more fast and more friendly user experience. Permanent cookies can be deleted in your browser settings.

Usage of session cookies

Using a session cookie we are able to see which website parts you brought a visit to, so we can adjust our service to the 'surf' behaviour of our website visitors. These cookies will be automatically deleted when closing your browser.

Google Analytics

As a part of the "Analytics" service, the American Google company will place a cookie by our website. We use this service to keep track of how visitors use our website. Google can share this info with 3rd parties only when they are legally forced to this. We do not have any influence to this. We did not allow Google to use this analytics info for other Google services.

The info collected by Google will be anonymized as much as possible. Info will be sent, like your IP address, to and stored by Google servers in the United States. Google is associated to the Privacy Shield program of the American Department of Commerce, and stated they have to abide by this program. This means that there is an appropriate protection level for processing of personal data.

Social Networks

Our website contains buttons/links to promote (like/share) social networks like Instagram, Facebook etc. These links work by means of code from these social network websites themselves. By means of this code cookies will be placed. We do not have any influence to this. Please read the own privacy statements of these social networks to see what they do with your (personal) data. These social networks are associated to the Privacy Shield program of the American Department of Commerce, and stated they have to abide by this program. This means that there is an appropriate protection level for processing of personal data.

The right to access and modification or removal of your data

You have the right to ask for access to and modification of or removal of your data. In case of such a request, please send us an email to: info@rebox.tv

To prevent abuse we can ask you to identify yourself. In case it deals with access to your personal data linked to a cookie, then we need you to send us a copy of that cookie. You can find this in your browser settings.

Cookies switch on/off and removal

More info about switching on/off and removal of cookies you can find in your browser instructions or its Help function.
